Celebrating Israel @ 60

For Your Consideration

Rabbi Mark Dov Shapiro

Back in January, a series of e-mails reported that Barak Obama had been educated in a fundamentalist Moslem setting and that Obama was therefore a dangerously flawed presidential candidate. Obama was not a "kosher" candidate for Jews.

Within a few days, the truth came out. The rumors about Obama's childhood connections to the roots of terrorism were false. The school he attended as a child in Indonesia was a public school – not a Wahabi madrassa. Seven Jewish Democratic senators characterized the attacks on Obama as "scurrilous." One newspaper referred to the slanders as an attempt to "swift boat" Obama.

Despite all this, one prominent pro-Israel Jewish leader maintained that, although he had no evidence confirming his suspicions about Obama, he still had reservations.

I am reminded of debates during the 1972 presidential race when some claimed Jews had to vote against George McGovern because, if nothing else, Richard Nixon was a more certain supporter of Israel. Of course, it turned out that, although Nixon believed in Israel, he also managed to do great damage to America.

I'm led to conclude that sometimes we Jews are too defensively Jewish when we look at the world around us.

This may surprise you since it is hard to imagine me ever saying that more Jewish awareness and involvement are not a good thing.

Sometimes, however, Jews do themselves a disservice by assuming too easily that the whole world is against us. It's true we have enemies. Israel certainly has ferocious foes. But sometimes our hypersensitivity is unwarranted. It narrows us and reduces us. We see the world darkly and spin our wheels in fearful, unnecessary ways.

Is Barak Obama "infected" with Moslem fundamentalism? It's an outrageous concern. When we spend our days searching for anti-Semites around every corner, we waste our time. Our pride as Jews ought to give us strength as well - strength to live positively in an open society.

Message from President Dave Roberts

Each year approximately one-third of our Board members are reelected or replaced (the maximum consecutive service is six years). This year, Linda Kay has agreed to chair the Nominating Committee charged with developing a slate of Directors which, after approval by the Board of Directors, will be submitted to the congregation for a vote at our Annual Meeting in June.

Becoming a Board member is an honor; however, being a Board member is not an honorary position. First and foremost, Board members are fiduciaries.

Many times when people hear the word “fiduciary,” they think only of someone managing money. But, fiduciary has a much broader meaning—Webster’s dictionary defines a fiduciary as “a person to whom property or power is entrusted for the benefit of another.”

Over the past two years, as a Power of Attorney and Health Care Representative for my elderly parents, I have come to understand and appreciate in a very personal way that broader meaning of fiduciary. Because my parents have a limited ability to care for themselves, I have had to make decisions for them regarding where they live, how to dispose of their farm, and about how they should be treated medically.

Board members are the “Powers of Attorney” and “Health Care Representatives”—the fiduciaries—for the Temple congregation. It is this group of 30 individuals who are entrusted with the ultimate responsibility for the welfare of our congregation, the synagogue’s building, its money, and the management of our staff. When you think about it, it is a big responsibility.

Many times it is also a confusing responsibility. As Board members, we must educate ourselves enough to resolve the sometimes conflicting needs and desires of our 500-plus families, our staff, and our volunteers. One important way we do this is through active involvement in synagogue life—attending services, serving on committees, and being open to talk with other members about Temple issues—how else are we to know our constituents’ needs and wishes?

If you know of a Temple member who would make a great fiduciary, let Linda Kay (linbob1117@comcast.net) or me (Droberts65@cox.net) know. There are a limited number of positions open, however, we will carefully consider your suggestions.

Shalom.

Message from Director of Education Sheila Shear

Shalom Chaverim

Things are going well in Religious School and Hebrew School. We are well into our second year using Mitkadem and I am very pleased with the success of our students. Home practice is an integral part of success for the children. Each child from grade 3 to grade 6 should have a home reading page for each of the ramot (levels) that they study which should be practiced at home. Support for these reading pages can be found at <http://urj.org:80/chai/mitkadem/ramot/audio/>. Just a word of caution, some of the chanting is not reflective of the manner in which we chant our prayers and blessings here at Sinai. The children should know the difference. If not, please feel free to call and I will alert you to which ones are the best to utilize.

On another topic, please look for an article in the April Bulletin on the Rosh Hodesh girls program. I think we have found a winner! Each group is a two year cycle. We will be starting another group in the fall of '09. If you are, or have, a fourth or fifth grade girl, you/they will be the right age, just in time for the new group. Keep watching for new information. Time flies when you are not paying attention. I hope to see you on Purim, Thursday, March 20th, at 6:00 p.m. L'Hitraot

Coffee, Schmooze & News Religious School Parents Please Visit Sunday, March 9 at 9 a.m.

Join us for a cup of Joe after dropping off your religious school students. We will be gathering on March 9th in the main lobby near the Judaic Shop. What a great opportunity for parents to meet and chat with one another. Big Y gift cards will be available for purchase while the supplies last.

Stamp Out Hunger in Our Community by Joe Hershon

45% of the children of our neighbors in Springfield live below the poverty level. Thousands of children go to school without breakfast, and parents often have to choose between paying the rent and feeding their families. This suffering calls for us to take action.

The food bank and other organizations help. Our Temple gathers food donations during the High Holidays. Still the problem of hunger persists on a daily basis here in our backyard. What else can we do?

1. We need to be able to provide food donations on a regular basis.

2. We need to raise consciousness about this local problem among our congregants.

RACHEL'S TABLE, THE JEWISH COMMUNITY RELATIONS COUNCIL AND THE PIONEER VALLEY PROJECT ARE ORGANIZING TO "STAMP OUT HUNGER IN OUR COMMUNITY" AS AN ONGOING CAMPAIGN. WE NEED YOUR HELP.

The next time you plan a social gathering (i.e. dinner party, book club) ask your guests to bring nonperishable food items to be donated to Rachel's Table. During your gathering take a few minutes to discuss the issues (a pamphlet is available to hand out as well) and when it's over call Rachel's Table to pick up your donations.

Since Purim involves the mitzvah of matnot evyonim (giving to the needy), March is the perfect time to start this process. If everyone makes this a part of every get together, we can provide food for our community on a regular basis (vs. one or two events per year) and raise awareness among our neighbors and friends.

PLEASE CONTACT US TO FIND OUT MORE ABOUT HOW YOU CAN HELP THIS CAMPAIGN.

For more information or pamphlets please call SINAI TEMPLE MEMBERS Joe Hershon at 330-8404, David Morse at 567-6632 or Laraine Shore-Suslowitz at 567-0171, or Fred Rose at the Pioneer Valley Project at 827-0781.

Let's stamp out hunger in our community.

The Memory of the Righteous is a Blessing

All of us at Sinai Temple extend condolences as we remember the following. Their memories are precious to their relatives, their friends and to each of us who form the community of Sinai Temple.
