Celebrating Israel @ 60

For Your Consideration

Rabbi Mark Dov Shapiro

You're on an airplane - probably squeezed into a narrow seat...the engines roaring in your ears. But truth to tell, it's not that bothersome. Some people are sleeping; some are talking with the passenger beside them. Other people are reading. It's almost peaceful.

And then the plane lands.

Within seconds, people pull out their phones, BlackBerries, and all manner of electronic devices. The moment the plane comes to a stop you hear the machines coming to life. 10...20...30 people hook up to the outside world almost frantically beginning to talk, make an appointment or do business.

I'm picturing this scene because I've been thinking a lot about the frenzy that characterizes our lives. We are connected to our world and our schedules these days with barely any room for ourselves. That is why I am very interested in exploring Judaism's oldest antidote to exhaustion. It's called Shabbat.

On Yom Kippur, I hope you will join me in thinking creatively about the way we live our lives. At that time, I am going to introduce a theme for our community entitled - Take Back Your Time: Rediscover Shabbat. I guarantee this will not be the "usual" message from the bimah. I've actually worked with several groups of Sinai congregants over the summer to develop new ideas about our use of time. At the suggestion of these congregants, we are even including a copy of my Yom Kippur sermon from last year that dealt with Shabbat. We invite you to read that 2007 sermon in preparation for my 2008 sermon.

When the plane touches down at Sinai on Yom Kippur, let's revisit Shabbat and our busy lives. I believe we have some important work to do. It's time for us to "take back our time and rediscover Shabbat."

News About SPFTY Andy Chaet, SPFTY Advisor

Shalom SPFTYites,

So now that you have a month of school safely tucked away, I am sure you are very excited to see what SPFTY has planned for the month of October.

I am very excited to tell you that September was very successful. The month started off with a board meeting at Josh Fisher's home. We had planned to swim and conduct our meeting outside, however the rains (some would say a flood) would not allow that option. We met indoors and planned a very ambitious year for all SPFTY members. These teens worked very diligently to provide a fun and exciting program for SPFTY. A HUGE THANK YOU to Josh, his parents, Marc and Shelley, and his brothers, Aaron and Zack, for being such gracious hosts and welcoming us in to their home.

A thank you to the Men of Sinai for inviting us to their family BBQ on Sept. 21, which allowed us to put on a fund raising Bake Sale.

Our OCTOBER Schedule is as follows:

Sunday, October 5, 5:00-7:00 p.m. - Ice Cream Social with a Pajama Party theme. All Teens Welcome!

Thursday, October 9 - Yom Kippur Day SPFTY will be assisting in collecting of non-perishables for the Temple's food drive (call Josh Fisher to sign up)

Saturday, October 18, 2:00 p.m. - SPFTY assisting with Sukkot Dog Day. (call Kyle Thomas to sign up)

Saturday, October 25 - Levi Leap at Temple Bet Am Framingham MA (NFTY) (call Jillian Bertuzzi or Mr. Chaet for forms and info.)

So as you can see October looks great!

- Please send in your membership dues ($40) along with application as soon as possible so we can make these events happen.

- We are planning a ski trip for either January or February. Dues must be paid by November 1st to attend the ski trip.

- The revamping of the Teen Lounge has begun. The Teens are very excited as they continue to find their inner interior decorator and designer.

- This message will make awesome refrigerator material!!!! Keep the above dates handy and as always feel free to contact me with any questions.

Representatives from Eisner Camp and Crane Lake Camp Will be at Sunday School On Sunday, October 26 Parents are Invited!!!!

If you want to learn more about Jewish summer camping, please join us on Sunday, October 26 for a presentation on the Reform Jewish camps of the Berkshires. A DVD will be shown; brochures will be available. The camp presentation will take place at 11 a.m. right after the PACT program for all families with children from Kindergarten to Third Grade.

Jewish Summer Camping Can Make All the Difference in Preparing a Jewish Child for the Future

Our Reform movement runs two remarkable summer camps in the Berkshires. One is called Eisner; the other is called Crane Lake. Last year several Sinai students attended each of the camps. Your child would love either camp. Scholarships are available for sessions in July or August. Please speak to Rabbi Shapiro as soon as possible.

Scholarships for Free

If your son or daughter is planning to attend any kind of Jewish program this summer, please take advantage of the Temple scholarship program. Thanks to the Joseph Emanuel, Rabbi Herman Eliot and Adele Biederman Snyder Memorial Fund, scholarships are available in small and larger amounts. We are also thankful to the family of Edna Simon and Judy and Michael Cohen who support summer scholarships as well.

Your confidential request should go to Rabbi Shapiro no later than March 1.

Mission Statement

Sinai Temple is a welcoming and inclusive Reform Congregation where our members pursue a continuing journey of Jewish growth. We are guided by the history and traditions of the Jewish people as we encounter the challenges of the modern world. We encourage participation in prayer, life-long Jewish learning, and social justice within a joyful, creative, and compassionate community.

Take Back Your Time: Rediscover Shabbat.

Read the Rabbi's Sermon

Rabbi Shapiro's 2007 Yom Kippur sermon is reprinted with this bulletin. The Rabbi happens to have spoken about Shabbat last year. He will be returning to the same subject this year. You're invited to jump start your own Shabbat thinking by visiting last year's remarks.

Let's Have a Conversation –
Saturday, October 11

As a follow-up to Rabbi Shapiro's sermon on Shabbat, you are invited to a feedback session on Saturday morning, October 11, from 9 to 10 a.m. You may agree with the Rabbi's Shabbat sermon. You may disagree. You may want to add your own thoughts. Come join the Rabbi for this one hour conversation, which will take the place of Torah Study on October 11.

Jewish and Decent:
How to Become a Better Person
Saturday mornings at 9 a.m.
October 18 – December 20

Notes from Cantor Martin Levson

As we stand poised at the beginning of a new Jewish year, a year filled with new possibilities and opportunities, we once again look forward to observing the High Holidays. We anticipate the soul stirring sounds of the shofar, and we make plans to gather with friends and family for services (and meals). We personally take stock of our lives during the past year, and we think about how we might make the coming new year better than the last.

My favorite phrase associated with the High Holidays comes from, of all places, the very end of the Book of Eicha (Lamentations). "Chadeysh yameinu kekedem." This is usually translated as "renew our days as of old." But a wonderful teacher some years ago reinterpreted this phrase by saying that this is not some wistful remembering of "the good old days." Rather, this is a mandate for us to make these days so good that we won't have any need to wallow in cheap nostalgia! Or, in the words of a late twentieth century poet, "These are the days you'll remember."

I would like to express my thanks to the members of Sinai Temple for your warmth and friendship during the Levsons' first few months in Longmeadow. Sheri, Jodie, Liz, Candy, and I all wish you a "Shana tovah u'mitukah," a good and a sweet New Year!

Ivdu et Hashem B'simcha! Serve the Holy One with Joy!

"Serve the Holy One with Joy!" (Psalm 100:2)

Scroll of Life

The Scroll of Life is a work of art in the Oneg Shabbat Room. It was created by Presentations Gallery of New York. The Isaiah quote at the bottom of the Scroll was taken from the Yom Kippur Haftarah as an expression of hope.

The Scroll has space on it so that Sinai members can commemorate either joyous events or memorialize loved ones. Each contribution of a plaque on the Scroll will be used to enrich the life and strength of Sinai.

The cost of each plaque is $200. The inscription may be 3-4 lines with a maximum of 27 spaces per line.

Men of Sinai

As of now, I hope all the men of our congregation have received and responded to the Men of Sinai newsletter that was sent in early September. If you did not get one, please call or email and I will make sure you receive it.

Our first BBQ of this new year went very well. Everyone who attended had a fine time. We will have another BBQ towards the end of the year, so keep tuned to updates to the calendar appearing in this column and e-mails we will be sending out.

Please take a moment, if you have not done so already and send back the coupon in the newsletter so we can record you properly as members of Men of Sinai. Most importantly, please join us at our various events and meetings. Come to have fun, perhaps work a little, and get to network with other men of the congregation.

The currently planned events for October are:

October 7: Board Meeting

7:00 p.m. food; 7:30 p.m. meeting

October 12: Breakfast 9:00 a.m. - 11:00 a.m.

October 13th at 7:00 p.m.: Help with building the Sinai Sukkah for Sukkot.

October 26: Evening with Cantor Martin Levson. We are very excited to have our first evening with our new cantor. Please plan to join us at 7:00 p.m. for a light supper, some learning, some singing, and some conversation. Please RSVP to the temple office at 413-736-3619 or e-mail our secretary David Amster at thevideoguy@cox.net so we can figure the space and food requirements.

As I write this in early September, I still want to express my wishes, and those of my wife Rebecca, and family for each of you to have a happy and healthy 5769!

Birthright – A FREE Israel trip if you're between 18 and 26

Rayna Trietsch

When I signed up for the Birthright trip called Israeloutdoors- Israel By Foot, I had no idea what kind of experience I was in for.

I was lucky enough to travel to Israel when I was nine years old with my family. However, even though I revisited many of the same sites, my experience this summer was very different. This trip, I was able to see the sights from a new perspective; not only from a more mature perspective, but also from a more involved perspective. Almost everyday of the trip, with the exception of Shabbat, we would go for a hike in whatever part of the country we were in. Each hike was usually about six hours long and encompassed some of the most amazing views I have ever seen. We hiked in places such as the Lower Galilee, the Golan Heights and the Negev. Some hikes involved hiking by water where we would have to work as a group to try and cross the rivers, while other hikes were in places where water was hard to find.

Some of my favorite memories include watching the sunrise from the top of Masada, sleeping under the stars in the desert, covering myself in mud from the Dead Sea, and repelling into a canyon in the Negev. I remember that we got a late start when we were heading out to Masada. We only had half an hour until sunrise and it was at least a forty-five minute hike to the top. I was determined to make it to the top for sunrise and I hiked up the path in under twenty minutes to get there right before the sun rose.

I also remember when we were camping in the desert we had the option of sleeping inside tents but I did not want to. I was one of the few people who decided to sleep under the stars and I will never forget that experience. I had never seen so many stars in my life as I was falling asleep that night. I woke up at one point just before dawn and looked up to see the sun start to rise above the mountains while the moon was still shining above a small town in the hills in the distance.

Besides the sites of the countryside, I was also able to learn a lot about Israel's history. We visited places like Yad Vashem, Independence Hall, and the Western Wall which were all unforgettable experiences. At Yad Vashem, we were able to listen to a Holocaust survivor's story and how she ended up fighting in the resistance and helping as a nurse after she escaped.

In addition to seeing historical sites, our group was expanded a few days into our trip when a group of ten Israeli soldiers joined us. It was a great learning experience to come to know each soldier and listen to what their lives are like in Israel as well as discuss topics such as the war and politics. It also made everything much more personal and real to us. When we visited Mount Herzl, where many soldiers are buried, we heard first hand accounts of how friends of the soldiers had died in battle and talked about their fears that accompany living in a country where everyone must serve in a time of war. I will never forget standing there with my group and all of us crying together over the graves of soldiers our age and even younger.

One of the most important parts of the trip to me was not what I saw or the places that I visited, but it was the people I met. I formed friendships with each person on my trip even though we were all so different. We were able to bond through our common experiences and by the end of the trip we were all one big family.

Your Child At Eisner Camp Next Summer!

The following letter was written by Hallie Goldstein, a veteran Eisner camper.

Dear Rabbi and Cantor,

Thank you so much for helping me be able to come to camp this summer. As camp comes to an end, it is sad to think I will have to wait a whole year before I will be coming back. This summer has been a truly amazing one. From trip days (Newport/Providence, RI 1st session and New York City 2nd session) to the 4th of July, and Israel Day to Maccabia, this has been a summer to remember.

Another fun thing this year was Limud, believe it or not. Limud is the Jewish learning part of the day. Because I am part of the upper camp, we get mini courses (which we switch every week) that we choose. One of my favorite mini courses was about the IDF. In this mini course, we learned about the IDF or Israeli Defense Force, and what some Israelis do in the Israeli army. One day we went around camp where there were different obstacles set up that our teams had to complete.

Also, the counselors as well as campers have been amazing this year. Some of my own counselors are from Israel, England and South Africa. This being my 12th summer at Eisner. I thought I had made most of my friends; however, I am happy to say there were many new campers this year, who are now my good friends. As you can see this has been a very meaningful summer to me, one that I will remember forever.

Thank you so much for helping me get here.

Sincerely,

Hallie Goldstein

"Green" is the Color of the Future Adapted from - This Old House, October 2006

Plant deciduous trees

Plant trees now on the south, east, and west sides of your house. In five years they may provide enough shade to let you run your air conditioner less frequently. When the trees mature, they could save you as much as 40% on your cooling costs. Beyond shading your property, trees also help combat the "heat island" effect that occurs in urban areas where concrete and asphalt absorb and hold in the heat. Two popular varieties are red oak for large lots (it grows to 70 feet tall) and trident maple for smaller ones. But before you buy any saplings check with your city/town public works department; some trees have invasive roots that plug water and sewer lines.

Insulate hot-water pipes

Without insulation, your house's hot-water pipes act as a gigantic radiator, transferring heat to the air so efficiently that any water in the pipes - even if it left the boiler at a toasty 105 degrees - is barely lukewarm 15 minutes later. So if you wash your hands to prep dinner, then need to rinse a pot, you'll have to wait for the hot water all over again. The solution: Insulate pipes whenever you can reach them by encasing them in rubber or polyethylene foam tubes. The tubes come with an adhesive-coated slit down the middle, so you can just ease them over the pipe and press the ends closed. Seal the seam with duct tape. Tests show that insulation can double the cool-down time in ½-inch pipe and triple it in ¾-inch pipe.

October is National Domestic Violence Awareness Month

Jews experience intimate partner violence at the same rate as the general population. One in three women, including Jewish women, will experience abuse at least once in her lifetime. Given these statistics, someone you know has been abused.

From a Jewish perspective, this work is important.

"Peace will remain a distant vision until we do the work of peace ourselves. If peace is to be brought into the world, we must bring it first to our families and communities." Gates of Repentance

As Jews we know that if one of us is enslaved or endangered, none of us is free

The Social Action Committee determined that a synagogue community response might be of interest to our members. If you want to assist us please call or email : Hermine Levey Weston- 204 5328 leveyweston@gmail.com or Leslie Hager- 567 0697 saftaseven@verizon.net

Question 1 May Be Dangerous to Your Health

Question 1 will appear on this November's ballot. It calls for the elimination of the state tax in Massachusetts. If passed, the state income tax would be eliminated immediately, costing the state 40% of its budget or over $12 billion.

If passed, every community in the Commonwealth, will not be able to meet the most basic needs of its citizens. The ability to care for children, elderly, sick and needy is at stake. Without adequate fire and police protection, without safe roads and bridges, without snow plows on our streets, risk touches all. Without quality education, not only do children suffer, but the prospects for economic health grow even dimmer.

They're hungry – very hungry Please bring your “Food of the Month”

Hunger presents an ongoing crisis in the Pioneer Valley. More people are turning to community pantries for more food every single month.

Our Social Action committee is proposing that we at Sinai double or even triple our food collections this year. This year we invite every congregant to bring a “food of the month” to the Open Pantry box outside the lobby. We are collecting the following foods:

October	Tuna
November	Rice
December	Beans
January	Soup/Canned vegetables
February	Peanut Butter
March	Baby formula
April	Watch for a special food drive on Sunday, April 5
May	Cereal

They're hungry – very hungry. Please bring the “food of the month” to the Temple.

Each day's email focuses on a different subject; sign up for one, two or all five to have an email arrive that will start your day off with learning. Sign up at <http://urj.org/torah/ten>.

The PJ Library Offers FREE Books and CD's

Parents and children have warm memories of the time before bed, when they snuggle together and end the day with a book. The PJ Library, the newest initiative of the Harold Grinspoon Foundation, wants to turn these special moments into Jewish moments.

Any Jewish family living in Western Massachusetts with children between the ages of six months and six years is eligible to receive a monthly mailing of a Jewish children's book, CD, or the occasional parenting book. The PJ Library is FREE for families during the first year of participation, with a nominal donation requested each year thereafter.

If you have not already signed up to receive PJ Library books, please consider enrolling your child today. Go to www.pjlibrary.org. If you live in Western Massachusetts but have relatives or friends living elsewhere, a subscription to the PJ Library (only $60.00) makes a great gift! Contact Rachel at (413) 439-1942 for additional information.

Your E-mail Would be Helpful

Our Temple office would like to have your e-mail if you belong to Sinai Temple. Why would we want your e-mail? We would like to be able to communicate with the congregation more effectively. In times of crisis (such as a congregant's death) AND joy (births/engagements) it would be so helpful to be able to share news in this rapid way. On other occasions, e-mail could also make it possible for our community to be in touch immediately. For example, a few years ago when Rabbi Shapiro returned from a trip to Israel, he prepared a report on his experience. It was “news.” It was something with immediate interest. We did send out the report to those who were already on the e-mail list. We can even send the Temple Bulletin to e-mail recipients.

Please e-mail your e-mail to Robin Blanchette-Gage, the Rabbi's secretary, at rblanchettegage@sinai-temple.org

LEGACY WHAT WILL YOURS BE?

What will you bequeath to future generations? How will the ideals you cherish now be sustained then? Who will articulate your principles for the sake of your grandchildren, your faith, your community and your country?

There is an answer.

With your help, Sinai Temple will endure as a powerful voice, sustaining those beliefs you hold dear. Now. And for future generations.

The Isaiah Hunger Fund

Sinai's "hunger fund" collected $2500 over the last year as a result of donations made by you and you and you! At its recent meeting, the Social Action Committee voted to disburse these funds to local agencies dealing with hunger. $500 is to be donated to the Gray House, $500 to Rachel's Table, and $1500 to the Western Mass Food Bank. Thank you to everyone who supported the hunger fund over the last year.
