

Interfaith Families Survey

We try very hard here at Sinai to live up to our Mission Statement and we are delighted that your family has chosen to be members of our temple. With those two thoughts in mind, our Interfaith Committee thought it might be a good idea to take a short survey to see if there are other ways we, as a congregation, can be more welcoming to our Interfaith Families. The best way to find out if there are ways to improve is to ask!

We would appreciate it if you would take 5 - 10 minutes to complete the following short survey:

Please indicate which of the following discussion groups your family would find of value and would most likely attend:

(Please mark them 1, 2, 3, etc., in order of preference, so we can gauge which topics have the most interest):

- ___ Introduction to Judaism course
- ___ Overview of Jewish Holidays
- ___ Jewish Values...what does that mean?
- ___ Children's Identity in an Interfaith Family
- ___ Bar/Bat Mitzvah information on "How can my non-Jewish family participate?" If so, please indicate your preference for...
 - ___ Brochure
 - ___ Meeting
 - ___ Both
- ___ Discussion group on Life cycle dilemmas. What do we do for a ...
 - Birth/baby naming/bris
 - Marriage
 - Death
- ___ Add another topic of interest here _____

To help us better communicate our existing Interfaith services, please check the resources that you were aware Sinai Temple offered:

- ___ An Interfaith Committee
- Interfaith ___ A section in our library with books you can borrow on the topic of
- ___ A brochure located on the table by the office entitled, "About Sinai...A Guide to Frequently Asked Questions" that was designed with our Interfaith families in mind
- ___ Union for Reform Judaism (URJ) brochures on Interfaith in our brochure rack
- ___ Mentors for Bar/Bat Mitzvah families
- ___ Interfaith Matters tab on Sinai's website with current information regarding Interfaith events and resources
- ___ Rabbi Shapiro's open door policy to discuss Interfaith issues

Please feel free to add any additional comments and/or suggestions for the Interfaith Committee.

Thank you for your time...your feedback is important so we can make Sinai as welcoming as possible for all our families.
